

I think the New Jersey Do Not Call Law is a great success. Before I registered, I was repeatedly annoyed by telephone solicitations at supper time, and when I was not home, long messages were recorded on my answering machine displacing time available for personal messages. Once I registered under the law, those annoyances stopped.